To request proposal from fire/smoke alarm manufacturers or service providers for the procurement of a new EMS5000 (EMS 500D1 - EMS Firecell) with the latest smoke/fire alarm to protect the staff and chancery at the South African High Commission in London.

2. BACKGROUND / PROJECT BRIEF

- The South African High Commission underwent the full installation of a wireless fire and smoke alarm system in 2011 following a full survey by EMS.
- The system has been serviced bi-annually according to the relevant British Standard by a specialist contractor to ensure that it was fit for purpose at all times.
- Removal of old equipment and installation of new equipment is required and should be in accordance with the relevant and applicable legislation
- The existing radio fire alarm does not operate on the required 868Mhz frequency with no availability of replacement parts, devices or components by the manufacturer
- In 2019 a full inspection of the fire alarm system was conducted reporting that there were extreme deficiencies of working protection devices. Seventy percent (70%) of the current protection devices around the building are incapable of detecting a fire condition.
- Further inspections in 2020 and 2021 discovered that the fire alarm system had degenerated further with one of the three control panels not working, minimal to zero fire alarm protection throughout the building and additional electrical works required.
- The High Commission intends to replace the current system and is inviting service providers to submit quotations for equipment and installation in accordance with applicable legislation.
